COLONIAL AND INDIAN EXHIBITION, 1886.

NOTICE.

It has already been notified that by command of Her Majesty the Queen-Empress, an Exhibition will be held in London next year of the Arts, Manufactures and Products of India and the British Colonies, to which Merchants, Manufacturers and the Public at large are invited to send appropriate articles.

It is now explained for general information that articles sent from India will be shown in four Divisions, viz.—

(1) The Court for exhibits sent by or through the Government of India. These will comprise all kinds of Raw Produce and Rough Manufactures from all parts of India, such as articles of food and drink, coffee, opium, oils and oil-seeds, medicines, gums, dyes, paints, fibres, minerals, the different kinds of woods, the coarser kinds of articles made of leather, horn, cane, grass, bamboo, &c., &c., also rough cloths and manufactures of cotton, silk, jute, &c.

(2) The Court for exhibits sent by or through Provincial Governments and Political Officers. These are intended to contain specimens of the Arts and Industries peculiar to each Province or Native State, such as paintings, photographs, models of temples, and buildings, specimens of carving in wood or stone, ornamented articles of domestic use, musical instruments, jewellery, all kinds of ornamental articles in metal, wood, ivory or stone, pottery, glass, different kinds of ornamental dresses and cloths, carpets, embroideries, furs, the finer manufactures in leather, bamboo, straw, &c., &c. Articles exhibited in this Court may be sold at the end of the Exhibition.

(3) The Court for articles sent by private persons direct. This Court is not intended for articles of rough manufacture such as have been referred to under (2). Articles exhibited in this Court may be sold at the end of the Exhibition.

(4.) A Tea room in which samples of tea, coffee and cocoa will be shown and tea, &c., sold.

(5). A Tobacco room in which cigars and tobacco will be shown and sold.

(6). A Special Court in which shops may be set up for sale of articles during the Exhibition.

It is optional with private persons wishing to exhibit to send their articles to the Courts referred to, as (1) (2) above, or to the Court for Private Exhibitors (3).

Any person who wishes to send exhibits to Court (1) should apply without delay to Babu Trilokhyanath Mukharji, in charge Exhibition Branch, Revenue and Agricultural Department, Calcutta, and any person who wishes to contribute to Court (2) should apply to the Officer in charge of Exhibition Work in the Province or State in which he resides.

All applications for space should be in the form given below.

A list of the different officers engaged in work connected with the Exhibition is also appended.

Persons who wish to send their exhibits to the Court for Private Exhibitors (3) or to Courts (4) (5) and (6) should apply to Messrs. H. S. King & Co., London, Messrs. King, Hamilton, & Co., Calcutta, or Messrs. King, King & Co., Bombay.

Articles for the Court numbered (1) should be arranged in neat cases of small size. The space set apart for exhibits in the Court, numbered (2) is only 12 feet broad and cannot accommodate large articles. Carpets should not exceed 12 feet by 9 feet. Wood and stone carving should not as a rule be larger than 1 foot 8 inches square.

No charge will be made for space.

Articles must be despatched before the end of December next.

The Government of India will pay the freight of articles exhibited in Courts (1) and (2) from Calcutta or the Provincial Head-quarters to London. The space in these Courts is limited and the officers in charge have the right to refuse any article which they may not wish to exhibit in their Courts. Any person whose articles may be refused by the officers in charge of Courts is at liberty to apply for space, to Messrs. H. S. King & Co., London, Messrs. King, Hamilton, & Co., Calcutta, or Messrs. King, King & Co., Bombay.

For further information, application should be made to the officers named in the accompanying list or to the Exhibition Branch, Revenue and Agricultural Department, Calcutta, or to Messrs. King, &c., as above.
